Our Training Programme (s)

The Institute conducts short-term training programmes for both national and international participants in areas of Global Human Resource Management, Human Capabilities, Human Resource Planning and Development, Manpower Information System, Monitoring and Evaluation and Manpower Research.

The Institute's training programmes have attained world-wide recognition and are being attended by senior and middle-level officials from the Government, industry and academic institutions, particularly from the developing nations.

The programmes aim at providing conceptual and empirical grounding in planning and development of human capital and human resource development. NILERD's programmes provide a holistic perspective to problem solving and skills development, and also add value to persons and organisations. NILERD has its distinguished alumni in more than 70 countries.

Who We Are

National Institute of Labour Economics Research and Development (NILERD), the only Institute of its kind, was established by the Government of India, in 1962. It is a Central Autonomous Organisation under NITI Aayog, Ministry of Planning, Government of India. The Director General of the Institute is appointed by the Government of India and holds the rank of Additional Secretary to the Central Government. The Institute is funded mainly by the grants-in-aid from NITI Aayog and supplemented by its own revenue generated from the research projects from different Ministries and multilateral organizations and sponsored training activities.

The Institute has achieved a marked position, both at the national and international level, in the field of research in labour and employment, skill development, monitoring and evaluation etc. It is a repository of knowledge and provides research services to the government, public/private sector, international organisations and other such agencies.

WHAT WE DO

NILERD conducts research and training in the field of human resource planning and development, structure and changing patterns of the labour market, monitoring and evaluation of public policies, dissemination of best practices and other initiatives of the Government.

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAMME

The proposed training programme for the officers of Ministry of Women's Affairs, Cambodia is an attempt in understanding the issues, challenges that affect goal of women empowerment. It is important to understand that why despite legal provisions granting equality to women, for majority of countries it is still a distant dream. The programme will also look at the policy measures representing best practices taken by different country governments towards empowering women. This training will give a direction for necessary changes in the policy level of the country which is needed in today's ever-changing world.
